Small Business Spotlight

Jim Hurley, JE Hurley Construction

- 2012 US Small Business Administration Person of the Year for Colorado
- JE Hurley is SDVOSB
- Diamond plan mechanical team member
- Retired US Air Force Contracting Officer
- Words of wisdom: always take the high road
- Currently working on six VA hospitals including this from Arizona to South Dakota

"I am ecstatic and surprised that I have received this award," Hurley said. "This goes to my whole office and to everybody who works for this company."

JE Hurley Construction employs 15 people and generated more than $13 million in revenue last year, mostly on hospital construction projects for the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs and highway construction projects. Hurley started the company in 2005 after spending 22 years in the Air Force, where he supervised infrastructure development as director of contracting for its Special Operation Command and taught classes at the Air Force Academy. He also received the Veteran Small Business Champion of the Year award in 2009 for the six-state Rocky Mountain region.
